A WORLD WIDE MARKET WITH EXCEPTIONAL HIGH PROFIT GROWTH POTENTIAL

EPA "68% of Human Diseases are related to Indoor Air Pollution"

Berkeley Lab "Employee Performance improved up to 16% with the removal of indoor air pollutants"

MARKET OPPORTUNITY

Air is the New Water. Indoor Air Quality (IAQ) is a major global pollution concern. IAQ can be worse than outdoor air because airborne germs and virus levels can be at their highest concentration indoors. Most people spend more time breathing air at work, medical offices, fitness centres, schools, and in their homes, and not cleaning the indoor air can be detrimental for people's health.

The North American IAQ market ranges between $6 to $18 billion dollars, and the Asian, Middle East and India markets have the potential over $25 billion dollars. The US EPA suggests that in North America approximately 30% of all commercial buildings have significant air quality issues, yet only about 5% have been able to address them. In Global markets many companies are in search of premium standalone air purification systems but there are very few highly effective solutions available. (ie. China, Middle East, India).

PROVEN BUSINESS PERFORMANCE

Surgically Clean Air Inc. has been operating since 2008. Proof of concept and commercialization of the product line is complete. The company is in an accelerated growth stage expanding sales across North America and cultivating international sales in China & India.

STRONG PRODUCT OFFERING

Our goal is to completely change the way air purification systems are designed and engineered. Our medical grade standalone air purifiers provide higher volume air flows, lower operating noises levels, and do so with highly effective and cost-efficient filtration solutions. Surgically Clean Air is a Crystal Clear choice for those who care deeply about their indoor air quality - and care even more deeply about their health.

INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY

The total planned equity raise target is $10M and this will accelerate deployment of capital to expand sales & distribution channels within North America, and Internationally. Proceeds will also be applied to developing next generation products and developing marketing support to build the brand.
